Subject: [External] Solar Choice Tariff

Hello,

As I am unable to share my thoughts this evening due to the time which offered was around midnight, I'd like to share a very quick summary here.

I'd like to start by saying that I am not yet a customer who has solar panels, but they are on our radar as a home upgrade therefore I feel it's important that this Tariff be shut down immediately for the following reasons:

1. We do not have a choice today when it comes to selecting a provider for electricity and because of this, we cannot be bound and tied to any such tariffs that they wish to impose for no legitimate reason other than I would buy less electricity from them and they are hoping to keep their revenue stream from changing. I have a fireplace which we use on cold days, should we consider allowing them to charge me for that as well? Certainly not, so this argument is inline with this solar choice tariff.
2. Because of the fact that we do not have a choice with electricity providers, we expect our government to have our backs and prevent such companies from being unfair with such tariffs given that consumers do not have a choice and ability to change to a more competitor provider.

My argument is simple and I hope you agree. Please stop this nonsense immediately.
